MERCER UNIVERSITY Profile 2025-2026

MERCER UNIVERSITY is one of America's oldest and most distinctive institutions of higher learning, offering rigorous programs that span the undergraduate liberal arts and sciences to doctoral-level degrees. Founded by early 19th century Baptists, Mercer — while no longer formally denominationally affiliated — remains committed to an educational environment that embraces the historic Baptist principles of intellectual and religious freedom.

With almost 9,000 students enrolled in 12 schools and colleges, on major campuses in Macon and Atlanta; medical school campuses in Macon, Savannah, Columbus and Valdosta; and at regional academic centers in Henry and Douglas counties, Mercer is ranked among the top tier and best values of national research universities by U.S. News & World Report. More than 90,000 alumni are making important contributions to their professions and communities throughout Georgia, the Southeast and the world.

While offering a breadth of programs found at much larger universities, Mercer maintains an intimate, student-focused culture more characteristic of smaller liberal arts colleges. Mercer's uniqueness is found in the way the University integrates five defining components of its mission: Liberal Learning, Professional Knowledge, Discovery, Service to Humankind and Community.

ROBINS AIR FORCE BASE — In 1983, the Warner Robins Air Logistics Complex (the largest entity housed at Robins Air Force Base) and Mercer began discussions about the critical need for engineers at the base. As a result, the University established the School of Engineering in 1985 and Mercer Engineering Research Center in 1987. The educational partnership was established in 1997 with the School of Engineering; it was formally renewed in 2021 and now includes additional Mercer academic units and programs including the School of Business, College of Professional Advancement and the Departments of Chemistry and Computer Science in the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences. The Air Force Sustainment Center (AFSC) is currently expanding the partnership through a broader Memorandum of Understanding (MOU), which will offer a more flexible framework that can support collaboration across multiple disciplines — both STEM and Non-STEM — allowing Mercer and the Government to engage in a more comprehensive and streamlined manner.
